

1808. Red sprites in the sky over Slovakia due to Planet X

Sunday, June 14, 2020

The sprites seem to thus be due to the transfer of energy to Planet X cores in the sky but instead of the energy being in the form electron or metallic plasma, which occurs when the cores are high in metallic compounds, it seems to be another type of plasma closer in composition to rock plasma or magma, and since pink magma is produced by the earth's core system, this may be pink magma being created in the earth's atmosphere from the surface of Planet X cores inside the earth's atmosphere.

Figure 3. Pink magma rises from the ground, mostly along the tree trunks suggesting that it rose along the tree roots and shows that the earth creates pink magma, in response to Planet X gravitational connections. Pink volcanic cloud is also present which is most likely forming in the gravitational connection region between Planet X cores and earth cores (Source: YouTube video by History Channel, from 3 March 2019, entitled: bushfires: Flaming trees glow pink | Pink Fire Ever in Australia) [2].

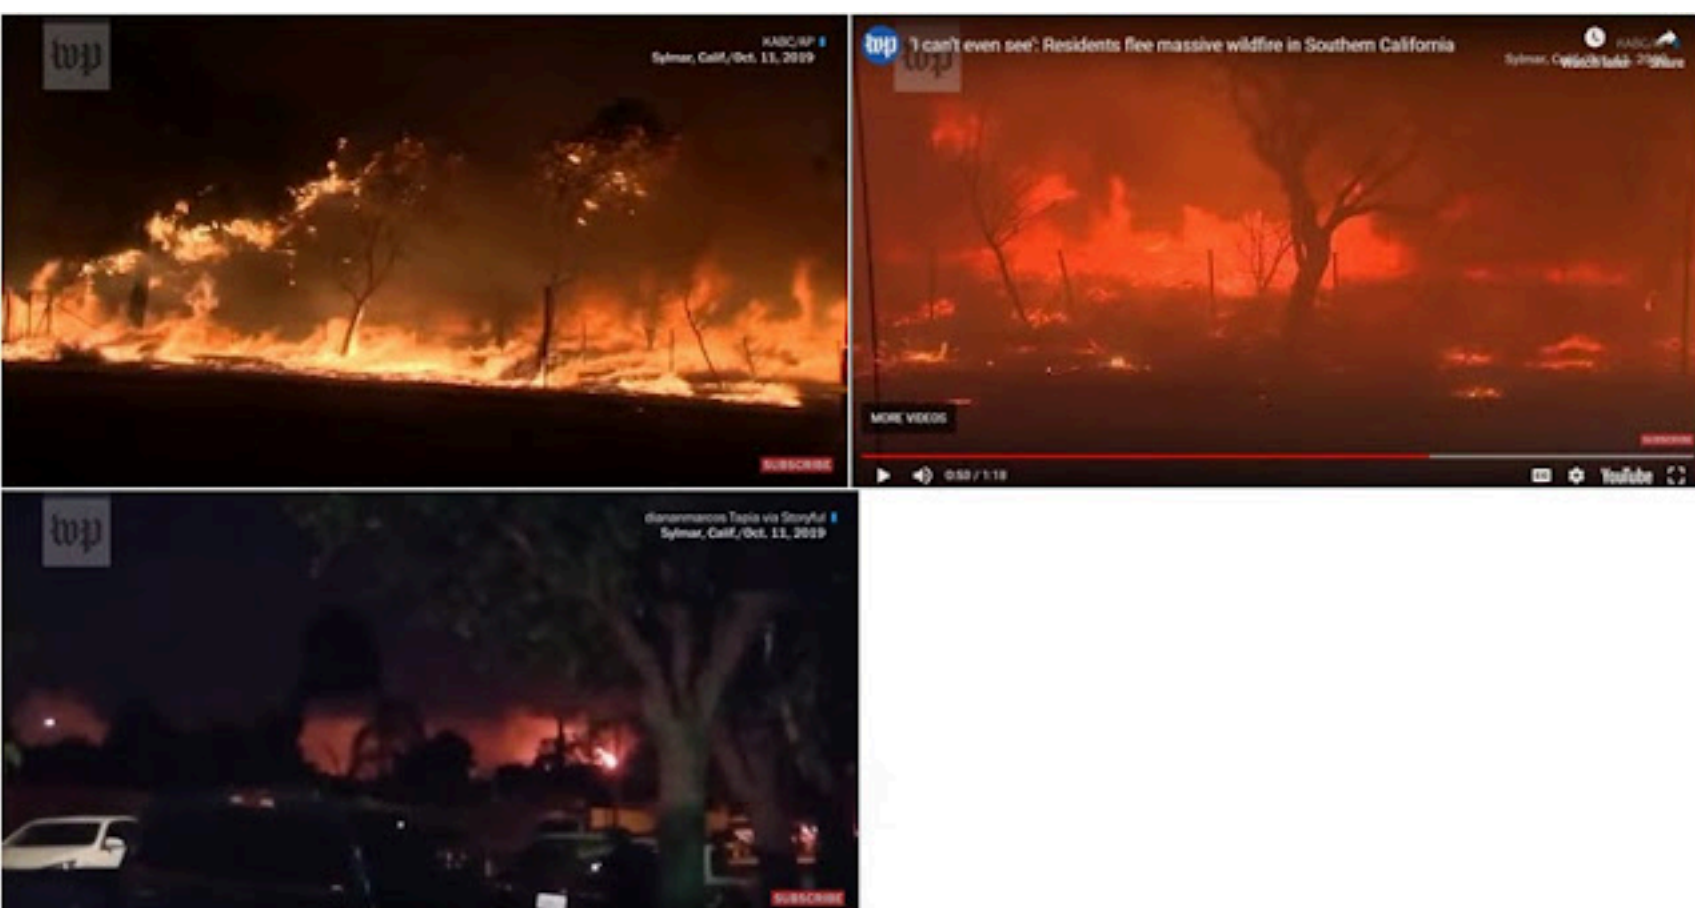

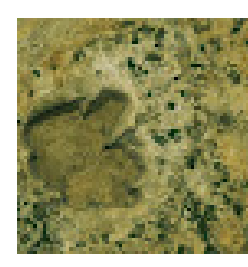

Figure 4. Flames and cloud in different colors rise from the ground in California due to earth cores that create different hot plasmas and ejecting these materials in response to Planet X gravitational connections, one of which is pink colored.

In conclusion, sprites which appeared in the sky over Slovakia can only be due to the presence of Planet X in the sky. The sprites seem to be pink plasma creation on the surface of Planet X cores in the sky as a result of Planet X gravitational connections with the earth's core system.

As I have detailed in previous articles, aliens (the Satan AI entity and his angels) are using the Planet X planets to control the earth environment [Article 1563: Planet X brought into Solar System by aliens: the planetary farmers]. These aliens also used Planet X to cause the flood and to create earth's ...

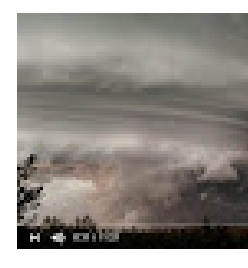

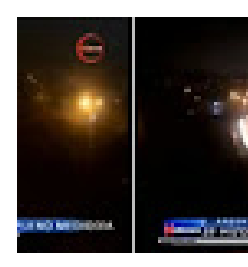

Figure 1 below shows a huge cloud vortex in the sky over Nebraska from a MrMBB333 video. The open cylindrical shape of the cloud identifies it as forming along a vortex, which is a gravitational connection between a Planet X core, in the sky, and an earth core, inside the body of the earth. The ...
