

1809. Crater Lake in India turns blood red: a sign of the times

Monday, June 15, 2020

Figure 1 below shows a report by Strange Sounds on a lake in India that turned blood red overnight. The turning of waters to blood red seems to be on the increase throughout the planet, an indication of the time we are living in as we read in Revelation that the ocean and river waters throughout this planet will turn blood red before the end of the age [Playlist: Tribulation events]. Red water, as I have shown in previous articles, is toxic to life as it absorbs life energy. This water is brought in as blocks of ice from the Planet X planets by the aliens (the Satan AI entity and his remaining angels) and water that turns red once inside the earth's atmosphere would have been least energy depleted in red energy and thus come from a planet where its oceans would have turned red before turning black and freezing solid, as a result of severe energy depletion [Playlist: Planet X ice and water and Playlist: Blood red rivers and oceans].

The Crater is referred to as an impact crater but it is impossible for an impact to create a perfectly circular crater, so this circular hole has to be a sinkhole, the result of the ground being absorbed as energy by the core system of another planet, which results in the ground vanishing [Playlist: Sinkholes].

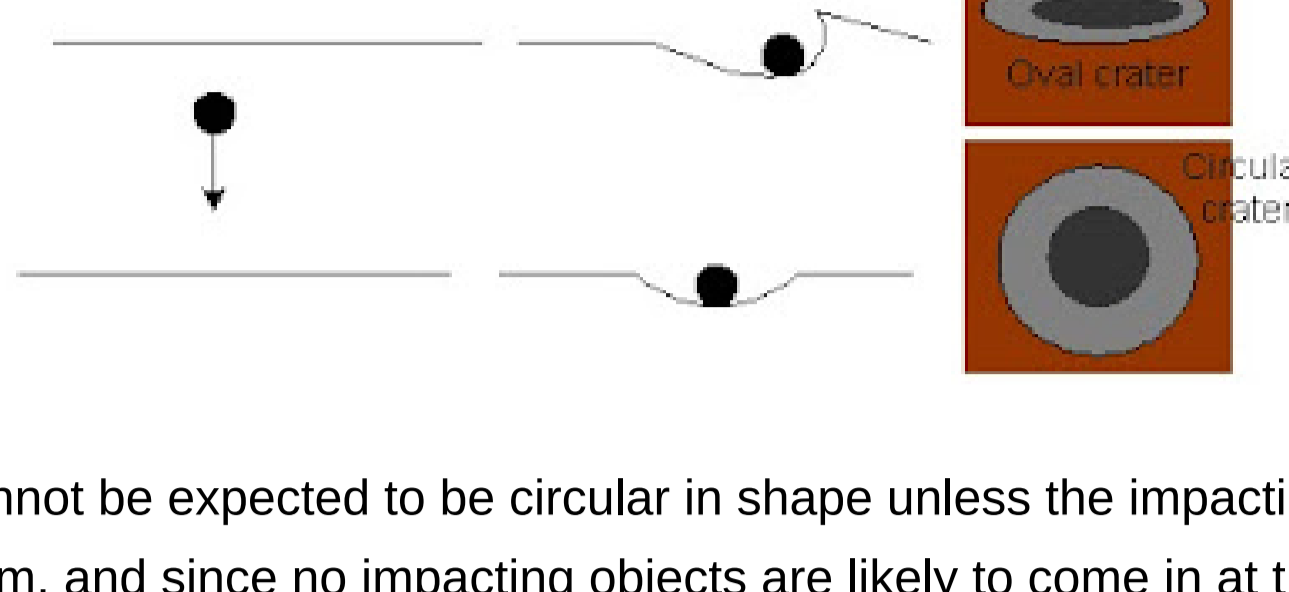

Figure 2. An impact crater cannot be expected to be circular in shape unless the impacting object comes in at an angle of 90°, as shown at the bottom, and since no impacting objects are likely to come in at that angle, it is impossible that circular craters are due to impacts, they are sinkholes, formed as a result of gravitational connections between planets. The ground in the least energy depleted is converted to pure energy so that it vanishes and the energy is transferred to the other planet which it uses to convert to matter [Playlist: Sinkholes].

Figure 3. Image of the crater showing that it is very close to circular not elliptical, as would be expected of an impact crater, and the sides have the same gradient all around which would also be impossible in the case of an impact crater.

The crater in the above photograph seems to contain very opaque green water, the opacity showing that it is energy depleted water and thus that the lake is fed by Planet X ice. Green water is least energy depleted in green energy and more in blue and red.

Figure 4. Ice and water that has melted from it emitting different colors of light due to being energy depleted Planet X frozen ocean or ice [Playlist: Planet X ice and water].

Figure 8. Photograph of the lake after it turned red. The fact that this occurred overnight shows that the lake is replenished with new Planet X ice during the night and that it obviously received a large amount of it at once.

In conclusion, a crater lake, which is clearly a very large sinkhole, not an impact crater, in India, turned blood red overnight indicating that Planet X frozen ocean from a planet whose oceans would have once been red was dropped into it overnight.

As I have shown in previous articles, the Sun seems to have stopped emitting light by 2001, and the earth now has a whole array of sun simulation devices that have replaced the real sun in its skies [Playlist: The Sun has gone dark and simulation devices]. As I have written in a previous article, the fact that Satan when released from the bottomless pit after 1000 years, knowing that he will be thrown into the lake of fire if he deceives the nations, and yet goes on to do just that, whereas all he had to do was not do so, in order to avoid the lake of fire, suggests ...

Planet X planets forced to come near the Earth by aliens As I have shown in previous articles, the study of Planet X has led to the understanding of how gravity works, which in turn allowed me to understand that both birds and airplanes create vortices in order to fly. These vortices turn the birds ...
